Public transportation

Paris offers a wide range of transport options for exploring the capital: metro, RER, bus, tram, bicycle or taxi. The public transport network managed by the RATP remains the most convenient and economical way to get around quickly in all districts. You can also choose to hire bicycles or walk to discover Paris in a different way during your stay.

In general, the Metro and RER run from 6:00 a.m. to 12:45 a.m. on weekdays. On Fridays, Saturdays and the eve of public holidays, service is extended until 1:45 a.m.

Buses generally run between 7:00 a.m. and 12:30 a.m. Outside these hours, the Noctilien night bus network takes over to ensure continuity of service.

For occasional journeys, opt for single tickets for the Metro-Train-RER (€2.50) or Bus-Tram (€2). If you are visiting Paris for several days, the Paris Visite pass offers unlimited travel for 1 to 5 consecutive days, including airport zones. The Navigo Easy pass allows you to load different tickets according to your needs. You can pay for your tickets in several ways: rechargeable Navigo Easy pass at automatic ticket machines, Bonjour RATP app on your smartphone, station ticket offices or authorised tobacconists. Contactless payment by bank card is available on buses. For a stay in Paris, opt for mobile apps to avoid queues.

Insurance

Please ensure you are covered by travel and medical insurance.

Meals

Coffee and tea will be provided in the afternoon on Monday, 9 February, in the morning and afternoon on Tuesday, 10 February and in the morning on Wednesday, 11 February.

An evening cocktail reception will be held on Monday, 9 February from 6 pm to 8 pm at the UNESCO Restaurant, located at the 7th floor of UNESCO main building.

Lunches will not be provided. You may choose to stay within UNESCO premises and go to the canteen, cafeteria or restaurant, all located at the 7th floor of UNESCO main building, or you can choose to go outside. There are several restaurants in the neighbourhood, as well as options for takeaway.

Dress code

Dress code for the workshop is smart casual.

Please note that Paris in February tends to be cold, however, there can be a few milder afternoons, especially near the end of the month. The average temperature is 8°C (high) / 2°C (low).
